

A short history of FerryBox Systems

Franciscus Colijn, em.

A short history of FB systems

Use of S-T thermosalinographs on the Hurtigruten in Norway, since 30ies

Start of the Algaline in the Baltic Sea around 1992

May 2000, Heathrow, first meeting , concept/idea of FerryBox was born

May 2001: first meeting at GKSS(HZG) to develop a EU Proposal

Two refusals of the EU, finally project accepted

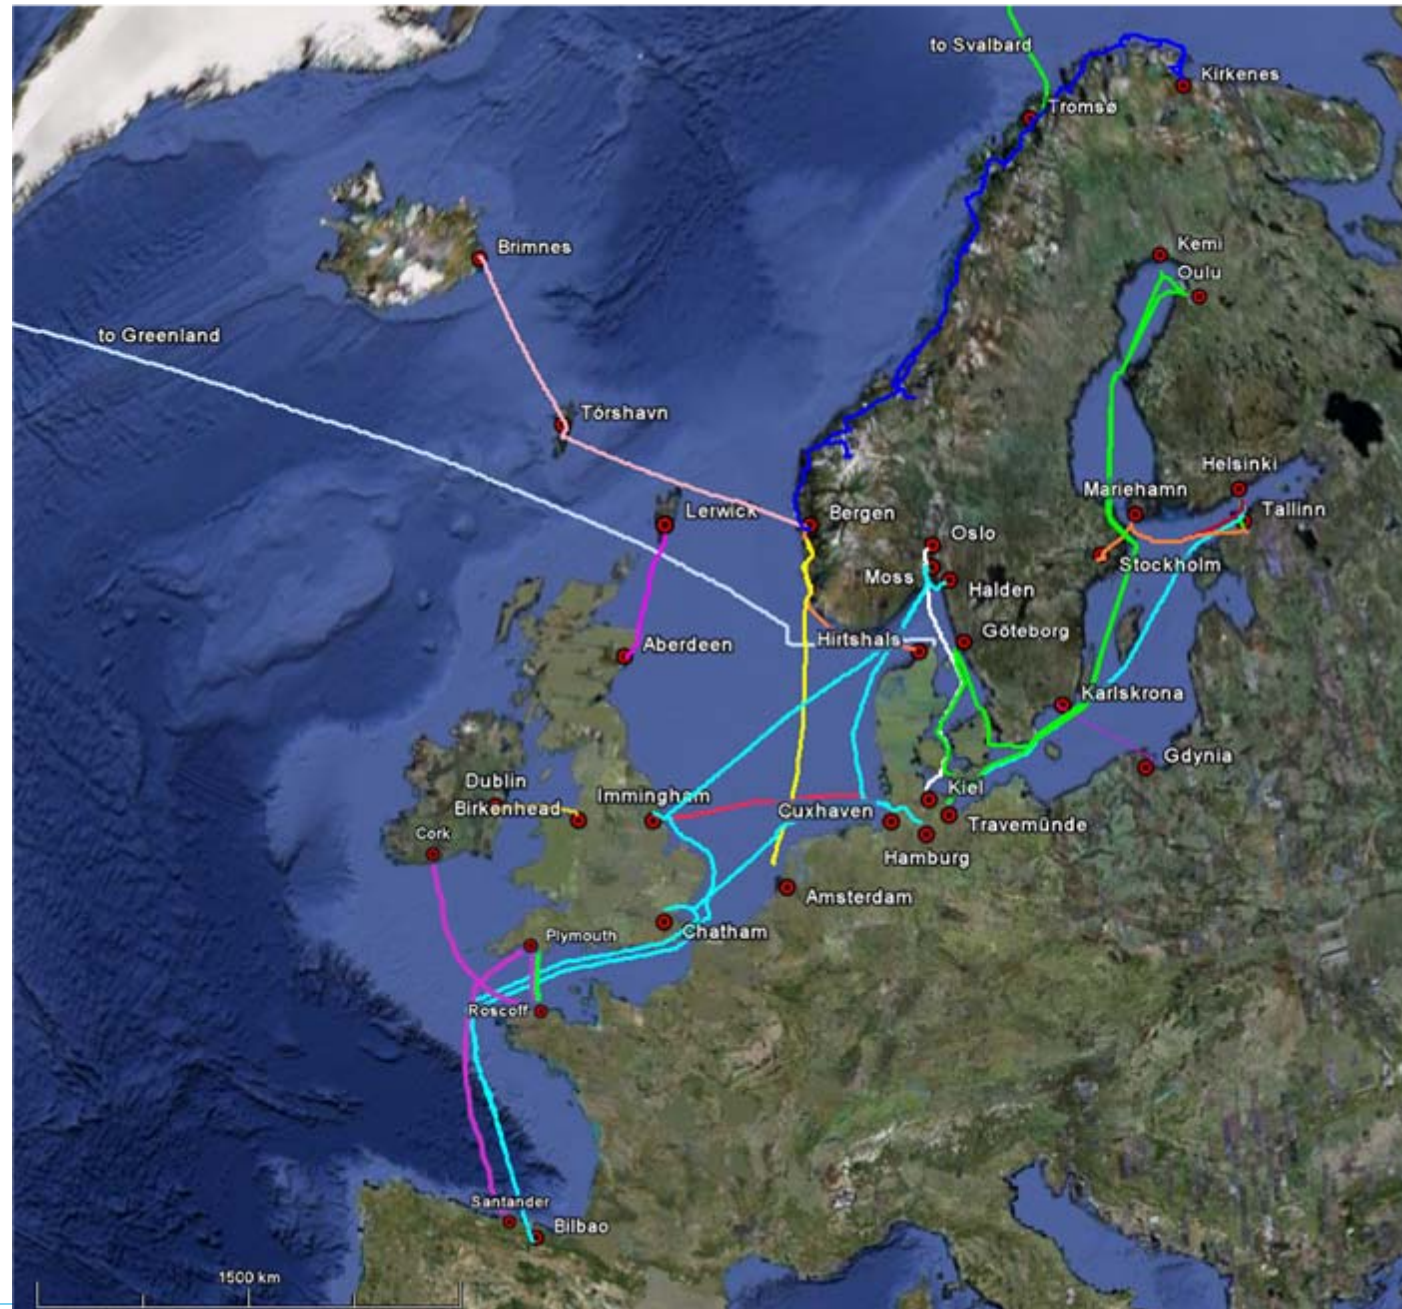

EU Project running from 2002-2005 with 11 partners

After finishing of the EU funded project meetings took place to exchange ideas and further develop new techniques:

- 1. Meeting in October 2006 in Oslo, ca. 25 participants
- 2. Meeting in September 2008 in Southampton, ca. 60 participants
- 3. Meeting in March 2010 in Göteborg, ca. 55 participants
- 4. Meeting in September 2011, in Hamburg, ca 80 participants

Activities related to FB are incorporated in e.g. EU-JERICO and form important part of COSYNA

Ferrybox Routes in Europe (status of 2011)

FerryBox Community in Europe: www.ferrybox.org

- Why a FerryBox (FB)?
- Objectives
- Ferry Box Principle
- Ship Routes
- FerryBox Institutions
- FB Online Data
- FB Applications
- EU-Project "FerryBox"
- FB Future Perspectives
- Other FB Links
- Observation Networks
- Publications
- Companies
- Internals

> Home > FerryBox Institutions

Main European Institutions Developing, Operating or Applying FerryBox Systems

Click on the flags for weblinks

Website hosted by:

Helmholtz-Zentrum Geesthacht
Centre for Materials and Coastal Research
<http://www.hzg.de>

Oceanology 2010

Contact

Wilhelm Petersen
Helmholtz-Zentrum Geesthacht
Centre for Materials and Coastal Research
Institute for Coastal Research
Max Planck Str.1
D-21502 Geesthacht
Germany
Fon: +49 4152 87 2358
Fax: +49 4152 87 2366
wilhelm.petersen@hzg.de

Susanne Reinke

Helmholtz-Zentrum Geesthacht
Centre for Materials and Coastal Research
Institute for Coastal Research
Max Planck Str.1
D-21502 Geesthacht
Germany
Fon: +49 4152 87 2337
Fax: +49 4152 87 2366
susanne.reinke@hzg.de

Ferry Lines

Oslo-Hirtshals

Helsinki-Tallin

Helsinki-Travemünde

Germany England
Norway

Den Helder-Texel

Portsmouth - Bilbao

Liverpool - Belfast

